Making Good.

There is no way of making lasting friends like "Making Good;" and Doctor Pierce's medicines well exemplify this, and their friends, after more than two decades of popularity, are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not made drunkards.

A good, honest, square-deal medicine of known composition is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It still enjoys an immense sale, while most of the preparations that have come into prominence in the earlier period of its popularity have "gone by the board" and are never more heard of. There must be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomach, or for liver and blood affections, its superior curative qualities are soon manifest; hence it has survived and grown in popular favor, while scores of less meritorious articles have suddenly flashed into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, nasty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It's an honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed on bottle-wrapper — no secret, no hocus-pocus humbug, therefore don't accept a substitute that the dealer may possibly make a little bigger profit. Insist on your right to have what you call for.

Don't buy Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription expecting it to prove a "cure-all." It is only advised for woman's special ailments. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Less advertised than some preparations sold for like purposes, its sterling curative virtues still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stood over two decades ago. As an invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine it is unequaled. It won't satisfy those who want "booze," for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the first pill of their kind in the market, still lead, and when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take as candy—one to three a dose. Much imitated but never equaled.

CLERGYMEN CHANGE FAITH.

Dr. William McGarvey and six other former Protestant Episcopal clergymen were received into the Catholic Church by Archbishop Ryan in the Cathedral Chapel in Philadelphia yesterday.

In the whole history of the Oxford movement, which led Cardinal Newman and many other distinguished men of the Established Church of England into the Catholic Church, it is said there is no record of seven clergymen taking that step in a body, and together making the required profession of faith.

The six who knelt with Dr. McGarvey at Archbishop Ryan's feet and made the profession of the Catholic faith were Rev. Maurice L. Cowl, Rev. William L. Hayward, and Rev. William H. McClelland, former assistants at St. Elizabeth's Protestant Episcopal Church, in Philadelphia, of which Dr. McGarvey was rector; Rev. Edgar N. Cowan, of Milwaukee and former assistant of St. Mark's Church in Philadelphia, and Rev. Charles E. Bowles and Rev. Otto W. Gremoll, both of Chicago.

After making their profession of faith all seven were conditionally baptised, so as to leave no doubt as to the validity of their original baptism.

This morning, when Archbishop Ryan celebrated his daily mass in the Cathedral Chapel, the seven former clergymen received their first holy communion at his hands. Following the mass the archbishop administered to them the sacrament of confirmation.

All seven expect to enter the Catholic priesthood, for which some of them will probably study in the Seminary of St. Charles Borromeo, at Overbrook. Two or three, it is said, may become members of Catholic religious orders.

ATTEMPTED MURDER AND SUICIDE.

Joseph Sudsburger, sixty-five years old, of Washington, was shot and probably fatally injured last night at his home by Walter J. Johnson, a negro, who later shot and killed himself at the foot of Washington Monument while vainly trying to escape a mob that was pursuing him.

Sudsburger for more than thirty years had been stable foreman at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. Johnson had been employed as a driver and stable hand at the bureau for about five years.

About two weeks ago Johnson went to the Sudsburger home and told Mrs. Sudsburger, it is said, that her husband had sent him to get $2. When Mrs. Sudsburger started into the house to get the money, it is alleged that Johnson assaulted her. He was arrested and was sent to jail in default of bail.

Yesterday he was liberated on bond signed by a negro physician, and about 8 o'clock went by the Sudsburger home. Sudsburger was sitting on his front stoop playing with some of the children of the neighborhood. Johnson walked up to the fence which surrounds the Sudsburger home, and without a word of warning, it is said, fired three shots at Sudsburger. The first shot went through Sudsburger's left wrist and the other two penetrated his abdomen.

Sudsburger was sent to Emergency Hospital, where an operation was performed. The physicians hold out little hope for his recovery.

Mr. John Riha of Vining, Ia., says, "I have been selling DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills for about a year and they give better satisfaction than any pill I ever sold." Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

SHOT AT CHURCH FETE.

Henry Nicoll, aged thirty-five years, of Towson, Md., son of Rev. J. W. Nicoll, former pastor of the Govans Baptist Church, Baltimore, but now engaged in general missionary work, was shot and seriously wounded by J. Vernon Hopkins, son of Jacob S. Hopkins, during the progress of a church fete on the lawn of Towson M. P. Church Tuesday night. The crowd numbering more than 100 women and men, had just gathered and were about to take their seats at the tables, which were set on the porches and lawn, when the shot was fired just in front of the porch steps.

In an instant there was the wildest excitement. A score of women screamed, several almost fainted and most of them made a mad scramble to get away.

Hopkins, in a second effort to shoot Mr. Nicoll, shot himself in the right hand. He, together with his brother, J. Edmond Hopkins, was placed under arrest, but was later released under $1,500 bail for a further hearing. His brother, who is charged with being an accessory to the affair, was released under $1,000 bail. The shooting was the result of a difference about a bill which Hopkins was trying to collect.

DeWitt's Little Early Risers are small, safe sure and gentle little pills. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER.

THURSDAY EVENING, MAY 28, 1908

WORSE than the original Vreeland bill; worse than the Aldrich bill as it passed the Senate; worse even than the Aldrich bill as originally framed by Mr. Aldrich, was the compromise currency bill that was rushed through the House yesterday afternoon practically without consideration and without understanding of its provisions by many of the men who voted for it. The actual provisions of the bill had been carefully guarded by the conferees until they were ready to present it to the House. Otherwise it could not have passed that body. Already men who voted for it are beginning to understand its iniquities, and to regret that they were misled into accepting it. There is but slight chance it may be beaten in the Senate. The democrats are going to talk against it, but they will not prevent a vote, and unless there are sufficient independent and intelligent republicans in the Senate to vote with the democrats the bill will probably pass that body also. It was made known Tuesday night that the basis of the compromise was a combination of the Aldrich and Vreeland bills, in which it was generally agreed that 50 per cent. of the proposed emergency currency should be issued under the provisions of the Aldrich bill, and 40 per cent. under the Vreeland bill through clearing house associations. When the bill was made public yesterday it was found to be 80 per cent. Wall street and 20 per cent. for the possible benefit of the commercial interests. The railroad bonds feature of the Aldrich bill, slightly disguised, is restored, and the commercial interests are permitted to provide not more than 20 per cent. of the basis of note issues, with bonds and speculative securities forming the remaining 80 per cent. of the assets to be used. As the announcement of the compromise was made Tuesday night it was understood that the banks in a clearing house association would have the privilege of choosing between commercial paper and other securities in providing security for notes. The bill, as passed by the House, provides that no bank shall use more than 30 per cent. of its capital and surplus in commercial paper, and that for any additional circulation it must use railroad bonds or other corporation obligations. There are also several other objectional features of the bill.

HER starboard 12-inch gun disabled, her deck turret armor crushed in and her skeleton mast ripped in a dozen places, the monitor Florida scarred, but not vitally injured, withstood the effects of high explosive projectiles shot from the guns of the Arkansas in Hampton Roads yesterday. Torpedo experiment was deferred until later, when Rear Admiral Mason, chief of bureau of the ordnance, declared the gunnery test at an end. The Florida was able to get away under her own steam, her forward guns still responding perfectly to the training gear her skeleton mast still standing. Commander Quimby and 20 volunteers remained in the turret of the Florida, while the Arkansas fired upon her. This was a wanton attempt at destruction of property and an entirely unnecessary waste of money. Nothing whatever was gained by the "experiment," for a turret and a mast could have been placed on land and fired upon at will with the same results as those attained by firing upon a monitor in comparatively good condition and fit for service for several years to come.

AN officer of the Department of Agriculture is investigating methods for the destruction of the enormous number of bats which have invaded and rendered uninhabitable the old Patrick Henry house in King William county. Philip Aylett, grandson of Patrick Henry, and one of the owners of the infested house, is assisting in the investigation. A practical citizen of Alexandria, who says he had experience in such matters in one of the lower Virginia counties, says if the house is closed with the exception of an upper window and sulphur burned for a day or two the bats will disappear and never return again.

WHAT with President Roosevelt's special messages in behalf of his "policies" and with the bombardment from all other sides with petitions to do business, the Sixtieth Congress of the United States will remain for all time a classical example of how not to do it. But, says the Philadelphia Record, with a discerning public the question will remain whether it is not decidedly better to enact no laws than to be driven to enact bad laws.

THE announcement was made at the War Department yesterday that a decision had been reached not to withdraw any of the American troops from Cuba at the present time. An election is to be held in Cuba soon which the Washington government will "supervise" and will see that it goes its way!

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, D. C., May 28.

The democratic senators, at a conference this morning on the currency bill, decided that they would not filibuster against its passage. There will be discussion to enable them to set forth their opposition to the bill, but final adjournment, they think may be had tomorrow night or Saturday. One of the interesting features of the conference was the consideration of a proposition, which, it is said, was made by Senator LaFollette which was to the effect that if the democrats wanted to make a fight to kill the bill, and would lend him the assistance of one man he would undertake to talk the bill to death. LaFollette, it is said, declared that in carrying out this programme, he would be willing to take either the day or the night session as his part of the design. The democratic Senators, however, declined to enter into any such entangling alliance. They realized that whatever may be the good or bad points of the measure the responsibility for it rests upon the republican majority. But if the bill were to be defeated through their efforts and there should come upon the country next fall, a recurrence of the panicky financial conditions such as prevailed last year, they saw that the blame for the inability of the government to render adequate relief would be placed upon their shoulders. Consequently they reached the conclusion that the thing for them to do was to place themselves on record, point out the reasons for their opposition to the measure, indicate what they believe to be republican inconsistences, and then let the bill proceed to a vote in an orderly manner, without any attempt at a filibuster. It is not expected that the discussion will last long and the opinion was expressed that the final vote on the bill could be taken in the Senate tomorrow evening, so that Congress might adjourn on Saturday afternoon.

Among the naval officers who returned to Washington today, after observing the turret test on the monitor Florida, there was a feeling of elation over the facts that were established. The general conclusion among the officers themselves is that the navy is all right—armor, turrets and everything else, including the officers and men. It was observed that the battered turret of the Florida was not only still in the fighting game, but that Lieut. Taussig, who, with members of his gun crew were in the handling room immediately beneath when the first big shell struck, and the other officers and men aboard the monitor did not seem to mind the shock any more than the turret minded the impact.

That the test conducted against the Florida yesterday was not a success, was stated in an official telegram reaching Washington today from one of the expert observers. This telegram stated that the 12 inch shell which struck the turret of the Florida failed to detonate, the unburned powder scattered about the deck being proof of this. It developed today that among the interested spectators of the test, were a number of foreigners in the crews of the different ships, particularly a half dozen Japanese stewards, serving on the Arkansas, the Montgomery and the Morris.

Direct testimony as to the events preceding the shooting of Frank Macaboy, by Gaston Philip, the millionare clubman of New York and Washington, was given this morning in the trial now on, when Edward W. Updpke, Philip's chauffeur, took the stand. The defense waived a preliminary hearing, and the prosecution immediately opened. Updpke said that Philip, Macaboy, and several others, on the night of May 17, visited the tenderloin. Late at night, Macaboy urged Philip to return home and with another man they went to the Arlington Hotel. Subsequently the party went to Haggerly's saloon. Here, witness said, Philip and Macaboy rolled dice for fifty dollars a shot. During the course of the game, Philip succeeded in getting all the money, and Macaboy's diamond pin. A quarrel ensued, but after having a round of drinks, the party left to visit the tenderloin again. Several other quarrels ensued, witness stated, and at one time Macaboy struck the defendant.

Mary Hinton, 50 years old, committed suicide last night. Her dead body was found in bed this morning. Just previous to going to bed Mrs. Hinton expressed to a number of friends at her home the sentiment that "everybody had a right to kill themselves."

Gen. Luke E. Wright, of Memphis, Tenn., is slated to succeed Secretary Taft if the latter captures the republican nomination. He will support the democratic ticket.

CONGRESSIONAL.

In the Senate yesterday a conference report on an omnibus public land bill was passed after an extended debate, in the course of which Senators Carter and Warren gave notice that in future they will object to the consideration of omnibus bills.

Following a brief executive session, devoted to the consideration of minor nominations, the Senate adjourned till today.

In the House the omnibus Indian bill, and the bill granting obsolete cannon, arms, and ammunition to monument societies and military organizations were passed.

A Senate bill was passed with amendments increasing the amount of air space in ship steerage to be furnished for immigrants coming to United States ports.

LIGHTNING STRIKES CHURCH.

While the funeral services of Mrs. John A. Losh were being held in the Friends' Church at Cammack, five miles west of Muncie, Ind., Monday, a bolt of lightning struck the church steeple, tore a hole through the roof, destroyed part of the belfry and injured several persons. The church was crowded to the doors with mourners and friends of the Losh family and the choir was singing "Rock of Ages." For awhile a panic was imminent. Many persons made an effort to vacate the building, but the people were finally quieted and and the injured were cared for.

News of the Day.

Returns from yesterday's election in Peru show that Augusto B. Leguia has been elected president of the republic.

In the West Virginia district conventions Colonel McGraw scored a decisive victory over Mr. Chilton. Bryan was indorsed and delegates pledged to him.

The jury to try the case of Gaston P. Phillips, a clubman, indicted for killing Frank B. Macaboy, a cabman, last May, was secured in Washington yesterday afternoon.

Miss Maude Ashford, whose engagement to former Senator Henry Gassaway Davis, which was the topic of so much gossip until she announced its annulment, was recently appointed a clerk in the Census Office and assigned to work in connection with the Cuban census.

The recount of the ballots cast in the last mayoralty election in New York went lazily on in court today. The net result, according to the attorneys, was a gain for Hearst in the nineteenth district of 23 votes, although some of these are open to question and have not been passed on by Justice Lambert.

In Chicago yesterday corn bulls tossed the price of the May commodity up to $1, 2½ cents over Tuesday's close, and when the despair of the bears was keen in the last minutes of trading, James A. Patten, king of all the bull traders, relented a little and supplied wants at 80 cents, easing the tension of the market somewhat.

An epidemic of typhoid fever, in Rockwell City, Iowa, which had its origin in the food cooked for a Methodist Church social, resulted in its fifth fatality yesterday. Thirty more members of the church, including the pastor, Rev. M. E. Ready, are now seriously ill with a chance that several more will die. Physicians who have investigated the case declare that the germs existed either in the fried chicken or the ice cream.

THE CURRENCY BILL.

The republican conferees yesterday afternoon agreed on a combination of the Vreeland and Aldrich bills. The democratic conferees refused to sign the report.

The conferees' report as presented to the House and the compromise bill was rushed through after one hour's debate. The vote was 166 to 140; 14 republicans voting with the democrats against the measure.

Scarcely had the bill passed the House before Senator Aldrich called it up at 4:40 o'clock in the Senate. The reading of the bill was concluded at 5:15 o'clock and then Mr. Aldrich announced that he would call it up for consideration and discussion today.

Senator Culberson wanted to know whether all of the conferees had signed the report. Senator Aldrich explained that it was signed only by the republicans, the democratic conferees having refused to sign the measure.

The democratic senators will caucus today to determine whether they shall make a prolonged fight against the bill.

Mr. La Follette and several other republican senators are said to be opposed to the compromise measure.

The republican conferees make this statement of the provisions of the bill:

"The reserve required to be retained in central reserve and reserve cities is 10 per cent. straight. A reduction fund of 10 per cent instead of 5 per cent. required by the present law is stipulated and all of it shall be held in Washington. The emergency currency issuable shall not exceed in the aggregate $500,000,000. Such currency shall be subject to a retirement tax of 5 per cent. for the first two months and an additional 1 per cent per month thereafter until 10 per cent is reached. State, county and municipal bonds shall be acceptable as security for emergency currency at 90 per cent of their market value. Other bonds and commercial paper shall be similarly acceptable at 75 per cent. of their market value.

"No bank shall be allowed to take out emergency circulation in an amount excessive of 30 per cent. of its capital and surplus when the security offered is commercial paper. No emergency currency may be taken out under any circumstances unless the obligant bank has already taken out, according to the present law, an amount of currency equal to 40 per cent. of its capital stock and surplus. The provision from the Aldrich bill is incorporated in the conference bill that banks which hold State, county or municipal bonds may, with the approval of the secretary of the treasury, take out additional currency directly upon them up to 90 per cent. of their market value—that is, they may do so on their individual initiative and responsibility. The use of commercial paper as a basis for taking out emergency currency may be only by banks which affiliate themselves in groups of not less than 10, with an aggregate capital and surplus of not less than $5,000,000. Such groups shall be known as national currency associations' instead of 'national clearing-house associations,' the clearing-house associations of the country having objected to the use of the latter name. The clause creating a currency commission so to be composed of nine members of the Senate and nine members of the House is carried in the bill."

DIG UP FLOUR HID IN WAR.

While the grading of Main street in Manassas was in progress Tuesday preparatory to receiving macadam, which is being applied to the streets, the workmen discovered that their picks went to a depth that indicated a subterraneous cavity.

Upon investigation it was discovered that a trench to the depth of three feet had been dug, presumably during the Confederate war, and a number of barrels of flour put therein and concealed from the enemy on the evacuation of Manassas by the Confederate troops.

A large quantity of barrel staves and a white substance resembling decayed flour was exhumed emitting a sour and sickening odor.

The cavity started on the east side of Main street, near the law office of R. A. Hutchison, and ran in a northwesterly direction to the west side of the street. The cavity ran still farther, but as the damage to the street by reason thereof had been overcome, the work of further investigation was abandoned.

THE METHODISTS.

Dr. James M. Buckley won three victories in the Methodist Episcopal General Conference in Baltimore yesterday.

The report of the Episcopacy committee, recommending a missionary bishop for Mexico, was opposed by Dr. Buckley and rejected by the conference.

Dr. Buckley's plan to have the General Conference to meet May 1, instead of the first Wednesday in May, was adopted.

The report of the Episcopacy committee as presented by Dr. Buckley, naming the Episcopal residence cities, was adopted after warm debate.

Mr. Homer Hall, delegate from Missouri, condemned the officials and conduct of the National Church Insurance Company. His revelations created a sensation.

A report favoring the licensing of women as preachers was adopted by the committee on state of the church.

KILLED HIS RIVAL.

Robert Craig, a well-known young man of Whittier, N. C., was shot down and instantly killed yesterday by William Dunlop, a prominent young farmer, because Craig had been assiduous in his attentions to a young woman with whom Dunlop was in love. Dunlop accused Craig of trying to steal the girl away from him. Both Craig and Dunlop had been good friends until a short time ago, when their love affairs came between them. When they encountered each other a quarrel ensued and a fight began. Dunlop drew a revolver and fired three shots at Craig, all of which took effect. Craig fell to the ground without uttering a word. Dunlop fled to the mountains. He has not been apprehended, although a sheriff's posse consisting of twenty-five men are searching for him.

BIG RUN OF FISH.

Old and experienced fishermen say that such a day's fishing as Wednesday was never before known on the Chesapeake. Nearly every steamer in the fleet loaded and possibly all would have loaded had not some met with accidents to their nets. Two or three fishermen encircled such masses of fish that they could not be raised and suffered heavy losses to nets besides loosing any quantity of fish. Bellows & Squires' boats caught nearly 2,000,000.—[Virginia Citizen, Irvington.

Tariff on Paper Unchanged.

Washington, May 28.—The following are the conclusions of the majority and minority members of the select House committee, appointed a few weeks ago to investigate the price of print paper:

"As the present price of paper would not, to any considerable degree, be immediately affected by the repeal of the tariff, and as the passage of the Stevens' bill in its present form might spell 'ruin' to the paper industry and ruinously high prices for paper in the near future, your committee believes it the part of wisdom before making recommendations for positive legislation to await until its investigation has been completed (next session) and thoroughly digested.

"We find that the revenues derived from import duties on pulp and printing paper are so small, and the benefits to be obtained from the abolition of those duties are so considerable, that we urge the placing of pulp and printing paper on the free list. We believe that relief from existing conditions can be fully and promptly secured only by the consideration and passage of the Stevens bill."

Chairman Mann (repn., Ills.), laid the report of the committee before the House today.

"The evidence before the committee so far fails to prove any combinations of print-paper manufacturers to advance prices or otherwise in restraint of trade," say the republicans.

"Evidence of concert of action on the part of the paper makers in obtaining higher prices are furnished by reports from many newspapers located in every part of the country, though actual violation of the criminal statutes has not been shown," say the democrats.

Minority Leader Williams objected to the reading of the report, when Mr. Mann submitted it, because Mr. Sims, leader of the minority members of the committee, was not on the floor. While waiting for Mr. Sims to come, the democrats secured copies for personal perusal.

When Mr. Mann asked consent, for the second time, to have the report read, Mr. Sims wanted to know if he intended to follow the reading with a motion to adopt the report.

Mr. Mann replied there would be time to answer that later.

"I object to the reading," exclaimed Mr. Hitchcock who has been leading the fight in the House for the removal of the tariff.

"I thought you would after you had read the report," retorted Mr. Mann.

For the time being the report was kept out of the records of the House.

Mr. Mann later dropped the report into the basket for such documents. The plan of the republicans, now, is to let the report slumber there for the rest of the session.

Evelyn and the Thaw Family.

New York, May 28.—Evelyn Thaw's reported conciliation with her husband, resulting in Tuesday's withdrawal of her marriage annulment suit, has not reestablished harmonious relations between the former and the Thaw family.

The younger Mrs. Thaw's plan to seek appointment as a committee of her husband's person and estate appears to have been definitely abandoned in favor of a petition to the court for an allowance suitable, as Attorney O'Reilly expresses it, to her station in life and the luxuries to which she has been accustomed.

There is no dispute concerning Col. Bartlett's statement that she is now receiving $1,000 monthly. O'Reilly simply does not consider this enough. Besides, he says, his client does not want to be dependent upon her mother-in-law's charity.

The court will be asked to settle the controversy directly following the filing of Justice Morchauser's order designating a place of confinement for Harry Thaw. It is expected this order will be signed at Poughkeepsie a week from tomorrow.

It is understood the Thaw family will be ready to contest the demand, and the supposition is that the dispute between young Thaw's wife and mother will shortly afterward reach a climax.

Two Thousand Lives Lost.

Victoria, B. C., May 28.—Disasters involving the loss of 2,000 lives 1,000 in a typhoon and flood in Hankow and an equal number in a coal mine fire in Kwangsi—were reported from China today in messages brought by the Japanese liner Shinono, just in from the Orient.

The typhoon, the mail dispatches say, raged furiously for hours. It swept the Kan river valley with especial violence, reducing hundreds of boats to kindling wood. A flood which followed completed the work of destruction. The work of relieving the survivors' distress and recovering the corpses had just been begun when the Shinono sailed.

Of the mine disaster little was known except that the fire was still raging at the time of the steamship's departure, rendering it impossible for anyone to enter the mines and as certain that all inside were dead.

The Hot Wave.

New York, May 28.—With a degree of heat uncomfortable even in the homes of the well-to-do on the breezy heights in the aristocratic northwestern section of Manhattan, suffering in the tenement districts is well nigh intolerable today.

The sufferings of the poor are rendered the more acute by the exhaustion of a miserably hot and, for many, a sleepless night in ill-ventilated rooms, or perched on the cooler but cramped fire escapes outside the windows of their homes.

As usual, many people took to the parks, where the police permitted them to sleep undisturbed on turf or benches.

To yesterday's record of four deaths from heat and scores of prostrations there is every indication of heavy additions today.

Corsets in Bed.

Taunton, Mass., May 28.—Believing that his wife, Jennie, has no right to wear her corsets to bed, Gustave Extrand, of North Easton, told her so and when she retired Tuesday night with them on he took her out of bed and beat her so she would not do it again. Mrs. Extrand insisted that she had rights and so Gusteve was yesterday haled to court, fined $10 and ordered to furnish sureties in the sum of $600 to keep the peace and be of good behavior.

Eloping Couple Still at Large.

Vienna, May 28.—The hope of the detectives in effecting an early capture of Princess Amelie Louise, of Furstenburg, and Gustav Kozian, the automobilists, with whom she eloped, lies in the fact that the couple is without sufficient funds to carry them very far. The princess was practically penniless when she left, though she carried a quantity of jewelry worth many thousands of dollars. It is believed that an attempt will be made to dispose of this jewelry and the detectives are guarding every avenue of escape. A description of the jewelry has been sent to pawn brokers and jewelers throughout all Europe. The last seen of the eloping couple was at Zurich where they disguised themselves and made their escape.

Death of Gen. Stephen D. Lee.

Vicksburg, Miss., May 28.—Gen. Stephen D. Lee, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans died at his home here today.

He was a graduate of West Point, class 1895 and served throughout the civil war being a major-general at the close. His home was at Columbus, Miss., and he was an author of repute. He has been commandant of the United Confederate Veterans since 1904.

Atlanta, Ga., May 28.—Following the death at Vicksburg today of Gen. Stephen D. Lee, Gen. Clement E. Evans, senior vice commander, succeeds to the supreme command of the United Confederate Veterans.

Disease and Robbery Follow Flood.

Dallas, Texas, May 28.—Disease and wholesale robbery today are threatening this city in the wake of the recent flood. Prompt measures are being taken to meet both evils.

The receding waters have left the flooded districts of the city, as well as the outlying country covered with debris, while stagnant pools have formed in many places.

Several attempted robberies last night led the authorities to believe professional thieves have been attracted here by the promise of loot. Notice has been posted that any one caught looting will be shot and the troops guarding the city at night have been instructed accordingly.

Appeal Dismissed.

Baltimore, Md., May 28.—The dismissal of the appeal of Rev. George A. Cooke, of New York, from the decision of Bishop David H. Moore in the case of the charges against Chancellor James B. Day, of Syracuse University, was recommended today by the committee on the judiciary of the Methodist Episcopal Conference in session at the Lyric. Mr. Cooke charged Bishop Moore with maladministration for not entertaining his complaints against Chancellor Day in the New York annual conference in April. His complaints were based on Dr. Day's book, "The Raid on Prosperity," in which he defended John D. Rockefeller.

Another Strike.

St. Louis, Mo., May 28.—The threatened strike on the Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain railroads (Gould lines) is on. Reports to the headquarters of the Brotherhood of Railway Car Men here show that 1,200 men walked out at various points on the system today. The strike was caused, the men claim, by the company breaking its contract with them, substituting piecework for the hourly basis of pay formerly in effect.

New York Stock Market.

New York, May 28.—Almost the entire list was higher at the opening. At the end of ten minutes trading the market was quiet with an uncertain tone. The market ruled generally strong all through the first hour. In the first half hour prices advanced from 1 to 2 points in nearly all the active issues.

Sixtieth Congress.

Washington, May 28.

SENATE.

The Senate adopted a resolution introduced by Senator LaFollette instructing the secretary of commerce and labor to investigate all telegraph and telephone companies, their methods of transacting business, the wages paid, and other details. The inquiry is to cover a period of five years. Mr. LaFollette referred to the inconvenience caused by the last strike of telegraph operators and said another strike is imminent. It was notorious, he said, that operators are greatly underpaid. An investigation at this time, he said, might avert a serious strike.

Senator Gore offered a resolution in the Senate today calling on the attorney general for information as to whether the Department of Justice has promised immunity to all railroads agreeing to obey the various provisions of the Hepburn act if the Supreme Court decides it to be constitutional.

The resolution was referred to the committee on interstate commerce.

The Senate this afternoon took up the conference report on the amalgamated Aldrich-Vreeland financial bills. Senator Aldrich said the only provisions that have not received consideration by the Senate are those relating to taxation, the limitation on the life of the bill, an increase in the amount of the redemption fund, the formation of national currency associations and the acceptance of commercial paper as the basis for emergency circulation. He said the redemption is superior to existing law.

Mr. Culberson inquired if there is any probability of passing the anti-injunction bill either here or in the House.

Mr. Aldrich said, speaking only for himself, it seems absolutely impossible to enact such legislation at this session. This is due to wide differences of opinion. The passage of such a bill, he said, would require Congress to remain in session for months.

Mr. Culberson asked if any publicity legislation may be expected at this session.

Mr. Aldrich said he had no objection to voting on the McCall bill this afternoon or at any time.

Mr. Culberson asked if this referred to the publicity feature, unmixed with politics, or the whole proposition cutting down southern representation.

Mr. Aldrich said it would be difficult to disassociate the two subjects but would leave it to the Senate to determine. All other bills on the subject are before the committee on privileges and elections. The McCall bill could be amended and thrown into conference.

Mr. Bacon said the great party leaders seem to be unanimous in favor of passing a comprehensive bill to make public campaign contributions.

He believed the attaching of the Crumpacker amendment would indicate an absence of good faith.

Mr. Foraker said republican members of the committee on privileges and elections are in favor of favorably reporting the McCall bill. He wants to see both publicity for campaign contributions and honest elections.

The constitution should be enforced.

Mr. Culberson said the republicans knew well that this coupling of the two propositions is an easy way to defeat publicity.

Mr. Beveridge asked unanimous consent for the consideration of the McCall bill immediately after the conclusion of the conference report and that a vote be taken the following day.

Mr. Hale objected, saying the agreement could be made after the report is adopted.

Mr. Culberson asked Mr. Aldrich to explain the meaning of the expression in the report "any securities." He asked particularly if it included railroad bonds. Aldrich said it would undoubtedly embrace railroad bonds and all other securities approved by the secretary of the treasury.

Mr. Bacon resumed speaking on the publicity question, saying the democrats are willing to vote on that proposition without debate. Mr. Foraker said he would rather strike out the southern representation reduction feature than have publicity legislation fail. He declared himself in favor of enforcing the fifteenth amendment to the constitution.

Mr. Beveridge gave notice that he will at the first opportunity renew his request for unanimous consent to consider the McCall bill.

Mr. Teller said it is unfortunate that a political debate should be coupled with the discussion of the conference report. "If there is one thing more nauseating than another," "it is the corrupt use of money during recent campaigns."

Mr. Teller then spoke in opposition to the conference report. He declared that it legalized asset or credit banking.

In reply to a question from Mr. Teller, Mr. Aldrich said that "securities" included all kinds of railroad bonds and any other kind of bonds that may be legally accepted as collateral for loans.

The threatened filibuster by Senator LaFollette against the currency bill was abandoned this afternoon. The change in his attitude makes it possible that a final vote on the passage of the bill may be had before adjournment the Senate tonight.

HOUSE.

The House today passed a bill extending to southern California, with the exceptions of Santa Barbara and Luis Obispo counties, the act for entry of agricultural lands within forest reserves.

Over the vigorous protest of the Californians, the House today, by a vote of 169 to 42, passed a bill allowing passengers from Hawaii to San Francisco to travel on foreign vessels as well as American. The bill is limited to six years or less.

Success Magazine for June, which has been received from its publishers in New York, is happy and far reaching in the selection of its articles, departments, fiction, etc. It opens with a description of a number of our well known men as they appear before the camera. A character sketch of President Eliot is given, and what Congressman Quinn thinks of the House of Representatives is of interest. Other articles, excellent editorials, good fiction, with the special departments of "Fin-money Papers," "Editor's Chat," "The Well Dressed Man," etc., complete this issue.

The National Magazine for May, which has been received from its editor in Boston, is particularly interesting and comprehensive. Its leading article, "Affairs at Washington," deals with the political and social life of that city and is well illustrated. Speaker J. G. Cannon contributes "How a bill becomes a law." "The rush into the southwest," "Prohibition war in Dixie" and "The ocean mail bill," are most readable. The "Home department," clever fiction, sketches, verse, etc., are also in the make up of this good issue.

Through the courtesy of Doubleday, Page and Co. we have received a copy of Herbert W. Casson's agricultural story "The Romance of the Reaper." It tells the stories of McCormick, of Deering and of the International Harvester Company. It is really a history of the development of agriculture during the last eighty years and portrays the results which have been accomplished by labor-saving agricultural machinery. This book met with remarkable success when issued serially with Everybody's Magazine.

NEW SCIENTIFIC PROCESS.

A Preparation Discovered That Will Destroy the Dandruff Germ.

For some time it has been known that dandruff is caused by a germ that digs up the scalp into little white flakes, and by sapping the vitality of the hair at the root, causes falling hair, and, of course, finally baldness. For years there have been all kinds of hair stimulants and scalp tonics on the market, but there has been no permanent cure for dandruff until the discovery of a preparation called Newbro's Herpicide, which destroys the dandruff germ. Destroy the cause, the effect will cease to exist. Kill the dandruff, no itching scalp, no falling hair.

Sold by Ernest L. Allen & Co., agents. Two sizes 50c and $1.00. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. 159

CARLIN WILL BE ELECTED.

Colonel W. C. Waite, of Culpeper, is here today on private business. He is a friend and supporter of Congressman Charles C. Carlin, of the Eighth district, who is seeking to retain his seat in Congress, and for which R. Lindsey Gordon, of Louisa, is offering.

"Who will be elected?" repeated Colonel Waite, when asked as to the conditions in that district, "why there is no reason in asking that question. There is not the least doubt as to the outcome." Charlie Carlin will win by about two thousand majority. The conditions in that section of the State are satisfactory, very satisfactory, and there is no room for any one to be uneasy.

"Mr. Carlin has remained right at his work in Congress while attacks are being made on him, and his friends have come to his aid. They will pull him through by a bigger majority than he got before."—[Richmond News Leader.

WILL ACCEPT OFFER.

R. H. Lynn, one of the receivers of the Washington and Potomac Steamboat Company, says the largest creditors of the company have signified their intention of accepting the offer of the reorganization committee, which will result in the discharge of the receivers, if the few minor creditors agree, as is expected. Mr. Lynn says that if the receivers are discharged, the men forming the committee will develop the business of the steamboat company. These men are W. C. Giles, of New York; O. H. Taylor, manager of one of the Morse steamship lines; B. L. Duloney, a coal operator of Bristol, Tenn., and John R. Dos Passos, who owns about fifteen miles of river front near Sandy Point.

SEARCHING FOR ELOPERS.

Acting at the request of Maryland authorities, Chief of Police Worner, of Richmond, instructed his men yesterday morning to find Lewis H. Griffin, a Washington saloonkeeper, who is charged with abducting Estella Acton, of Prince Georges county, Md., and to whom a marriage license was issued in Richmond Tuesday. The Maryland sheriff lost the trail of the elopers at Alexandria on Monday, although it was supposed they had purchased tickets at the union station for Columbia, S. C. The couple were subsequently married in Richmond. There present whereabouts are unknown.

SUIT FOR DAMAGES.

The Southern Railway Company was sued for $10,000 damages in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia yesterday, on account of the death of William O. Ballard, an engineer, who was killed in a wreck at Shipman, July 27, 1907. Negligence is alleged because of the failure of the railroad to keep the track clear at the point where the wreck occurred, and, it is further declared, no danger signal was displayed. Mr. Ballard is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lula Ballard, and two children, Misses Anna and Irene Ballard. The deceased was for a long time a resident of Alexandria.

CROW AND TAME TURKEY FIGHT.

One of the fiercest combats between two of the feathery tribe was witnessed last Sunday on the Notley Hall Farm, Maryland. A hen turkey had its nest in a clump of bushes and it was filled with eggs. A crow flew down in close proximity to the nest for the purpose of destroying it and a battle royal ensued. At times both the turkey and hen were in the air and when the contest was over the crow flew toward Washington with scarcely a feather on its body and very few on its wings.

A NUISANCE.

People in some sections of the city are complaining of the carelessness of certain persons who collect garbage. Instead of transporting the same in covered vessels, it is often emptied from buckets and other receptacles in tubs and barrels, during which process portions of the garbage fall on the pavement, where the sun soon renders it offensive.

THE WARM WAVE.

The torrid weather of the past few days has not only brought out many straw hats, but equally as many linen and alpaca coats. The temperature today has rendered outdoor movements uncomfortable if not dangerous, and those compelled to move about the city have sought the shady side of streets.

RIVER NOTES.

The United States dispatch steamer Dolphin passed up the river this morning.

The schooner C. L. Crowell, loaded with lumber by Smoot & Co., has sailed for Edgewater.

Mr. J. M. Pettit, at his store, No. 717 King street, has many tempting edibles on exhibition. His supply of strawberries and other fruit, as well as choice vegetables, is especially inviting.

You don't have to go to Washington for all the new dainty features in fine footwear. Look our stock over and be convinced. We have all the new styles, J. A. Marshall & Bro.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR SOCIETY

As has been stated, the spring convention of the Christian Endeavor society of Northern Virginia will hold its meeting at the Methodist Protestant Church in this city tomorrow afternoon. The exercises will begin at 2:30 o'clock with praise services by the Mount Olivet Society. Afterward R. E. L. Tyler, president of the union, will deliver an address of welcome. A response will be made by Mr. Thomas. At 3 o'clock the business session will begin. It will be followed by a song service at 3:45 o'clock by the Vienna Society. Rev. Mr. Nourse of Vienna, Fairfax county, will deliver an address at 4 o'clock, and afterward an "open parliament" will be held which will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Driskoe of Herndon who will discuss practical plans for active work. At 5 o'clock the Manassas Society will hold song service. A supper will be tendered the delegates at the church at 5:30 o'clock by the local society of the M. P. Church.

The evening services will begin at 7:15 o'clock with praise service by the Alexandria Society. An address will be delivered by J. R. Trimyer, of this city. Rev. C. M. Zepp of Ballston, Alexandria county, will hold consecration services. A solo will then be given by Mrs. Lowe of Falls Church. Rev. G. I. Humphreys, pastor of the Methodist Protestant Church, will deliver the convention sermon at 8 o'clock and the exercises will be concluded with benediction by Rev. Dr. Davidson of Ballston, Va.

ANOTHER "BUCKLE."

A portion of the vitrified brick roadway on the north side of King street, near Royal, "buckled" shortly after noon today, and a space extending from the curb to the electric railway track and about five feet wide was practically ruined. A slight hillock was noticed at this place several days ago, and it was thought then that damage would follow. The sun is supposed to have caused the expansion and today's upheaval. The eruption made a noise as though a cart loaded with bricks had broken down, which brought storekeepers to the street. One man supposed an earthquake had taken place and fled from the scene. Several years ago the roadway "buckled" on the south side of King street, near Columbus.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice L. H. Thompson presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

James Self, charged with abusive language toward W. C. Brenner, was dismissed.

Robert Banks, colored, charged with contempt of court in refusing to appear when summoned, was fined $5.

WANTED IN RICHMOND.

The police authorities have received a letter from Richmond stating that felony warrants have been issued there against a white man named Louis H. Griffin, alias Griffith, charged with perjury. The man on Tuesday married a girl named Estelle Ashton, of Prince George county, and left Richmond on that day for Alexandria. The police are requested to look out for him.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

The Grand Lodge of Masons in Virginia have sent to the family in this city of the late W. H. Lambert, P. G. M., a set of handsomely engrossed resolutions passed by the grand lodge in respect to the memory of the deceased. The resolutions were sent to Past Master Robert W. Arnold for presentation.

WILL OBSERVE ASCENSION DAY.

Old Dominion Commandry, Knights Templar, will observe Ascension Day by attending services at Christ Church next Sunday evening at 4 o'clock. Rev. W. J. Morton, the rector of the church, will preach a sermon appropriate to the occasion. The Washington commanderies have been invited to attend.

CELEBRATION.

The birthday of President Jefferson Davis will be observed on Wednesday, June 3, by the ladies of the Seventeenth Virginia Regiment Chapter, U. D. C., by a tea to be given at the Alexandria Golf Club house. The members of Lee Camp, Confederate Veterans, will be entertained.

[COMMUNICATED.

ALEXANDRIA DELEGATES.

In conversation yesterday with one of the gentlemen selected by the city democratic committee to represent the democratic voters of Alexandria in the State convention I learned that he expected to attend and that he was opposed to the nomination of Mr. Bryan and would not vote in the State convention for instructions for him. I have no idea what the convention may do, but I think when men are chosen by a committee, who should have been elected by the people, they should at least obtain the views of the constituency they represent, and not enter the convention with their minds poisoned against the greatest American of modern times and ablest expounder of democratic doctrine in the political arena today—William Jennings Bryan. While those who attend should be given a free hand to do what is best for party harmony and democratic victory next fall, it is to be hoped that the sentiment expressed by this delegate does not represent that of the other eight or of the committee. PRESIDENT DAVIS'S BIRTHDAY.

[Special Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Spokane, Wash., May 23.—Mildred E. Lee Chapter of Spokane, Daughters of the Confederacy, will entertain its members and a number of southerners living in the Spokane country at the home of Mrs. J. M. Snapp, 1107 Shannon avenue, the evening of June 3, in honor of the 100th anniversary of the birth of the president of the Confederacy. Plans for the celebration of Jefferson Davis day were discussed at the last meeting of the chapter at the home of Mrs. L. A. Robinson, when a committee, headed by Madam Snapp, was named to arrange a programme of addresses and music suitable for the occasion. Hon. Miles Poindexter, judge of the Spokane county superior court and president of the Southern club of Spokane, will be one of the speakers, and an orchestra and quartette will present a programme of vocal and instrumental music, including songs, typical of the southland. It was originally intended to invite a prominent southerner to come to Spokane as guest of the chapter and deliver the principal address, but because of the little time left for an exchange of letters this plan has been deferred until later in the season, when the chapter and Southern club will join in a basket picnic at one of the nearby resorts.

TO VISIT LONDON.

The Right Rev. Robert A. Gibson, Bishop of Virginia, will sail on Wednesday on the Mauretania for London, where he goes to attend the Pan-American and the Lambeth conferences of the Episcopal Church. Bishop Gibson will be the guest while in London of the Bishop of London. There is an unconfirmed rumor in church circles that Bishop Gibson will, while in London, be united in marriage to a Miss Coleman, a young trained nurse, whom the bishop met last summer while she was on a visit to her brother, an Episcopal clergyman, who has a church in this State. The Bishop of London, it is said, will perform the ceremony.

THE GAZETTE.

We desire to congratulate the Alexandria Gazette upon the very excellent special edition of last Wednesday. It is replete with matters of interest, which are prepared in excellent style and so concise that the busiest man can take time to read them. The edition should, and we doubt not will, be of great value to our community.—Alexandria Sunday Times.

The special 12 page edition of the Alexandria Gazette, which was published last Wednesday, was a credit to that reliable old journal. The historical description of Alexandria was especially interesting. We congratulate the Gazette on the up-to-date move.—[Loudoun Mirror.

A Chinese Bunko Game.

"I want to show you," remarked George Wilson of Los Angeles, "how keen the Chinese are at a bunko game. When I was in Tientsin they pulled off a good one. Poor fellow entered a pawnshop. Moment later man came in with package and inquired for him by name. Had a letter. First man handed letter to pawnbroker to read. Said: 'Am sending you ten tael bar of gold as present. Am getting very rich. You must come to me. Your brother.'

"'Then I don't need to pawn my watch!' joyfully exclaimed the poor man. 'But 10 taels is great amount for one like me. No one would believe it was mine. Will you buy it from me?' The pawnbroker took it back and weighed it. It weighed 12 taels. He handed over 10 and said nothing. When the men were gone, he sawed into the bar and found it filled with lead. In a moment a third man rushed in. 'Did you have any dealings with those fellows? They cheated me. For 3 taels I'll lend you to them to get even.' And he did. The two came back, protesting their entire innocence. 'Produce the bar, and if it be not all right I shall return your money.' The pawnbroker returned with the sawed bar. 'Weigh it,' directed the poor man. 'Ah, but this is a twelve tael bar. Mine was 10, and you paid me but 10.' Stung for 13 taels!"—San Francisco Chronicle.

Restless Animals.

When you see the animals in the park menageries pacing back and forth restlessly in their cages, do not take it for granted that the creatures are unhappy or even discontented. It may be that the lion or the tiger or the polar bear that moves about with apparently ceaseless activity is only taking his daily exercise, without which he would pine and die soon. When the wild creatures are in their native jungles they are kept pretty busy hunting food. Thus each day they walk many miles perhaps. In their narrow cages in the parks they are plentifully supplied with food, but their brawny bodies still demand a great amount of exercise. Mile after mile is paced off daily by the uneasy creatures. Usually they move with a long, swinging stride, but when mealtime comes around then the step quickens until when the keeper appears with his baskets of meat the tigers and lions and other animals leap against their bars and growl and whine and lash their tails. In fact, they act like great hungry boys do after a long day's tramp if they find that supper is late.

Fish as They Bite.

"If you will take the time to investigate," said an old time angler who has observed as he fished, "you will find that the full stomached trout in your catch will outnumber the empty stomached ones ten to one. This would seem to indicate that it is the trout which has already dined well that is eager for more, while the one which has not dined at all regards it with indifference. In other words, it is the satiated trout that bites and the hungry one that doesn't—paradoxical proposition. And this odd circumstance is not confined to brook trout. Pickerel not only swollen with food, but having the tails of fish they have since caught protruding from their mouths because there is as yet no room for the newly taken victims in the capacious pickerel maw, will yet voraciously seize the tempting live bait of the fisherman, as any angler who has fished much for pickerel has doubtless had frequent proof."—New York Sun.

A Book Accident.

When M. Henri, a quaint and shabby miser of threescore and ten, died in Paris some time ago, the closest search for treasure revealed nothing more valuable than two shelves of dingy looking books, which were sold, with his few sticks of furniture, to pay his funeral expenses. When the buyer of the books examined his purchase he discovered to his amazement two volumes of rare value—absolutely unique in the whole history of books—every page in each of them consisting of a five pound sterling note of the Bank of England. In all there were 820 pages, a neat accident of $20,500.

The Holy Carpet of Turkey.

The holy carpet of Turkey is a gorgeous piece of red velvet embroidered with gold. It takes a year to make the carpet, and the sultan of Turkey then intrusts it to the Egyptian pilgrims to place on the tomb of the prophet at Mecca. At the end of that time it is replaced by another carpet and is returned to Cairo with great ceremony. The right to carry the carpet has been handed down from camel to camel in the male line for hundreds of years.

Neighbors Do the Repeating.

"I wonder what's the meaning of the expression 'History repeats itself?'" asked Dubley.

"I don't know," replied Subbubs, "but I do know if it's scandalous family history it needn't exert itself at all."—Philadelphia Press.

In Luck.

"Mamma, do animals know what they are called?"

"No."

Jack uttered a sigh of relief and remarked, "It would have been so unpleasant for the donkey, wouldn't it?"

Might Be Made Useful.

"This kid," declared the New York broker, "is no good as an office boy. He has absolutely no memory."

"Well," inquired the junior partner, "shall we fire him or take him into the firm?"—Kansas City Journal.

He Wonder He Fled.

A tall, solemn looking young man entered the restaurant with a mild, apologetic air and seated himself at a vacant table near the middle of the room. It was evident that he dreaded to intrude. He wanted to get as far away from other people as possible. He even blushed painfully when he gave his order, and the most casual observer could have told that he was bashful. Just as his dinner was brought to him a buxom looking woman with seven small children entered the place. The head waiter swept the field with his eye, pounced down upon the table where the young man had sought solitude, motioned to the mother, who clucked to the chickens, and a moment later they were all around that one table.

That young man's face was a serial story.

Other people entered the restaurant, glanced at the group, smiled significantly and seated themselves.

"He doesn't look it, does he?" queried a pleasant faced old lady in an audible whisper.

"She looks at least ten years older than he," murmured a girl at the next table.

He flew to the hatrack, tossed a half crown to the waiter and tried to go through the door without opening it.—London Telegraph.

A Wasted Opportunity.

"Ole Bill" Foote and "Ole Bill" English were political traveling companions, and many stories were told of their joint journeying.

The two hardy Democratic campaigners were doing southern California one election time and got into the country at the back door of Los Angeles. One night they reached a farmhouse where they had expected to find lodgings. The farmer had nothing but two armchairs. Foote and English pleaded for beds—cots, trundle beds, anything that looked like a bed. Nothing doing.

The campaigners, like Napoleon or Grant or like Washington at Valley Forge, slept in their chairs.

When the first advance agents of dawn scudded out of the west, the politicians laboriously got out of their chairs and went out for fresh air. They met the old farmer milking the cow with the crumpled horn.

"Do you know, gentlemen," he said blandly and without contrition, "you could have had a bed, after all? I was expecting two Democratic orators here last night and saved the beds for them, but somehow or other they never showed up, dang 'em."—San Francisco Call.

The King Had Rights.

Once when Macready was performing at the theater at Mobile, Ala., his manner at rehearsal displeased one of the actors, a native American of pure western type. This Claudius in "Hamlet" resolved to "get even" with the star for many supposed offenses, and in this way he carried out his purpose. When in the last scene Hamlet stabbed the usurper he reeled forward and after a most spasmodic finish stretched himself out precisely in the place Hamlet required for his own death. Macready, much annoyed, whispered fiercely:

"Die farther up the stage, sir."

The monarch lay insensible, upon which in a still louder voice the Hamlet growled:

"Die farther up the stage, sir."

Hereupon the Claudius, sitting up, observed:

"I believe I'm king here, and I'll die where I please."

The tragedy concluded without more ado.

Broke Up His Speech.

Judge Norton was solemn, stern and dignified to excess. He was also egotistical and sensitive to ridicule. Judge Nelson was a wit and careless of decorum. He did not like Judge Norton. At a bar supper Judge Norton in an elaborate speech, referring to the early days of Wisconsin, described with tragic manner a thunderstorm which once overtook him in riding the circuit. The scene was awful, "and," said the judge, "I expected every moment the lightning would strike the tree under which I had taken shelter."

"Then," interrupted Nelson, "why in thunder didn't you get under another tree?"—Philadelphia Ledger.
